Update from Agate Housing and Services

Dear Friends at St. Mary's Greek Orthodox Church, Agate Housing and Services in Minneapolis is very happy to share that our new women's shelter opened in November. The Valiance is a thoughtfully designed building. The architects took feedback from people with lived experience of homelessness, resulting in shelter spaces and permanent apartments that have community in mind. One of the immediate needs for not only The Valiance, but for our downtown shelter at First Covenant Church, are groups to prepare bag lunches for both shelters.

125th Year Celebration

- The PC believed a “Special Glendi” away from the church hall and kitchen was essential so that everyone could relax and enjoy the memorable evening. Thank you to all who purchased a ticket and joined the festivities.
- Special thank you's to Jenn Coin for all her efforts in planning and organizing St. Mary's outstanding 125th Celebration and to Kathy Boosalis, Steve Rakes, and Niko Kouzes for MC'ing and programming the event. We also raise a glass to Bill and Tiki Spell for their generous wine donation. And to Terri Leckas for her stunning ‘sweet’ replica of our golden church.

Metropolis Clergy-Laity Conference Recap

- What is the “Metropolis” - For new parishioners of St. Mary's, the Greek Orthodox Metropolis of Chicago was founded in the early 1920's (yes, St. Mary's is 20 years older!) and is under the leadership of His Eminence Archbishop Nathanael, who most of us met this Summer on his extended stay in Minnesota and the surrounding Vicariate. The Metropolis serves to support its parishes like St. Mary's and the 57 other Greek Orthodox parishes in Minnesota, Illinois, Iowa, Indiana, Wisconsin and central Missouri, which allows them to minister to their faithful. All the clergy of the Metropolis of Chicago report to the Metropolitan, who in turn reports to the Ecumenical Patriarch in Constantinople.
- On November 5, the Clergy-Laity Assembly convened in Rolling Meadows, Illinois (a bi-annual meeting). Nearly 300 clergy and lay leaders from across the Metropolis engaged in meaningful dialogue, exchanged insights, and shared best practices for church operations and ministries. This effort supports the Metropolis' Five-Year Vision which is, “A comprehensive roadmap designed to deepen sacramental life, expand ministries, grow Church membership, and empower clergy and parishes for sustainable growth.”
- This year, the Assembly:
  - Voted and approved the Metropolis 2026 and 2027 budgets.
  - Held a spirited debate on the state of the St. Iakovos Retreat Center (“SIRC”) which is a 137-acre facility located in Kansasville, Wisconsin, that hosts various Orthodox camps and events.
  - Approved the purchase of the new Metropolis Center building on the north side of Chicago, located in close proximity to Chicagoland Orthodox churches. Our own Nick T. Boosalis shared details of the financial feasibility of the purchase for the Assembly to make an informed decision.
  - Re-elected Diakonissa Alexandria Kalina and Dean Tortorelis to the Metropolis Council for another two-year term of service.

The Parish Council wishes you and your families a blessed Christmas season.

Yours in Christ,

Nick Santrizos

PHILOPTOCHOS MEETINGS

Board Meeting:
Wednesday, December 10 on Zoom
No General Meeting this month

UPCOMING ACTIVITIES

Decorate the Church for Christmas

Saturday, December 6 – after Liturgy

Every year, we feel deep gratitude for the joyful spirit our volunteers bring as they thoughtfully decorate our Christmas trees. We warmly invite anyone available on Saturday, December 6, to join us in decorating the trees in the Terrace Room, Foyer, and Sunday School hallway starting after the Liturgy. We anticipate finishing by 3:00 p.m. Whether you can stay for the entire time or just a portion of it, your presence will certainly brighten the occasion.

AHEPA Children's Christmas Party Gifts

Due on Sunday, December 7

Children from Healing House are invited to the AHEPA Children's Christmas Party on December 13 at 11:00 a.m. Please have your wrapped gifts delivered to church by Sunday, December 7. At this festive event, they will wiggle through lunch as their anticipation grows for welcoming Santa and opening their gifts.

Vasilopita Sales

Starting Sunday, December 21

This year, we will be selling Vasilopita on Sundays, December 21 and 28, at the Philoptochos table during coffee hour. These will be offered on a first, come first served basis at $15.00 per loaf. We gladly accept cash, checks, and credit cards. Credit cards will have an additional charge for processing. All proceeds will benefit Saint Basil Academy in New York, whose mission is to provide a safe, supportive environment for our children and young adults, empowering them to grow into strong hopeful members of society.

SUNDAY TABLE COVERAGE REMINDER

We ask for your assistance in ensuring that the Philoptochos table remains staffed after Liturgy each week. We're looking for a minimum of two members to manage the Sunday table, providing updates on current volunteer opportunities and addressing general inquiries about mission and membership. Ideally, this should be one board member and one general member to manage the table, providing updates on current volunteer opportunities and addressing general inquiries about our mission and membership. Please consider joining us after the Liturgy and committing approximately one hour to this vital task. Your help is greatly appreciated.

LITTLE ORTHODOX LIBRARY

If you have Orthodox books to donate, please bring them to the Philoptochos table after Sunday Liturgy or bring them to the church office during the week.

THANK YOU...

...to Carol Smith for leading Operation Classroom's Winter Clothing Drive for Bancroft Elementary School! Thank you to all who generously donated coats, boots, gloves, mittens, socks, and underwear in addition to your monetary donations!

...to Andrea Tiggas for once again organizing the annual filo and Yiayia and Papou coffee products!

...to all the volunteers for organizing Philoptochos Sunday and to all who donated to the special collection for the Ecumenical Patriarchate!

...for those representing Philoptochos at the Ministry Fair Sunday!

...participants who attended Clergy Laity Conference, Connie Kouzes, and Kathy Wendland.

In the Bookstore

By Rebecca Myerly

bookstore@stmarysgoc.org

Sermons on the Life of Christ is a collection of Saint John Chrysostom's festal homilies. This compilation includes sermons he preached on feast days, including Christ's Nativity, Baptism (Epiphany), Pascha, Ascension, and Pentecost. In addition, there are sermons on Holy Thursday and Good Friday and one on the Resurrection that appears to not have been preached on a feast day.

Saint John Chrysostom (347-407) often preached on the life of Christ. Robert G.T. Edwards, the translator of this book, notes in his introduction what distinguishes this collection as a compilation of festal homilies:

The sermons in this volume form a distinct group of sermons preached at feasts, in which the feast is the main focus—the main topic treated in the sermon. In them, the preacher explicitly mentions the festal occasion and sets about using Scripture to interpret...Although these sermons are highly exegetical (and sections of them read like biblical commentary), it is not Scripture that is the primary object of interpretation, but the feast itself... In almost all these sermons Chrysostom is intent to provide his audiences with the “reasons for the feast(s).” The preacher understands his role as not only laudatory of Christ's salutary actions, but also didactic... Chrysostom provides explanations not only of the feasts themselves, but also of certain liturgical traditions associated with them...In a couple of these sermons, the preacher also employs Scripture to reflect more generally on the nature of Christian feasting. (xix-xxii)

The translator also notes:

There are at least two other characteristics that provide an overarching unity to these festal sermons...they are theological or mystical. The first is John's invocation of what has been called the “liturgical today,” but which, in John's preaching, takes on a more mystical character. John's festal preaching speaks to a mystical unity between the events in the economy of salvation and the feast days themselves. (xxiv)

In one of his homilies in this collection, Saint John Chrysostom explains:

It is always a feast for us. And so that you might learn that it is always a feast, I will tell you the reasons for the feasts, and you will know that every day is a feast. Therefore, for us, Epiphany is the first feast. And what is the reason for the feast? That God appeared on the earth and lived with men, since God, the Only-begotten of God, was a child among us. But this is always the case: for it says, Behold, I am with you every day until the consummation of the world. Therefore, it is possible to keep Epiphany every day! The feast of Pascha: who would like to know what is the reason for the feast? It is at this time we proclaim the Lord's death—and this is Pascha. But we do not do this at a fixed time. For Paul, wanting to set us free from the necessity of times, shows us that it is always possible to keep Pascha: As often as you eat this Bread and drink this Cup, you proclaim the Lord's death. Therefore, since we are always able to proclaim the Lord's death, we are always able to keep Pascha... And so that you might learn that it is always possible for us to celebrate, that the time is not fixed, and that we are not confined by the necessity of time, hear what Paul says, Therefore, let us keep the feast....He shows that it is not the time, but a pure conscience that makes a feast. For a feast is nothing other than spiritual gladness. And nothing makes spiritual and intellectual gladness but a conscience of good deeds...The one who has a good conscience and such deeds is always able to feast. (206)

Sermons on the Life of Christ is a feast of spiritual nourishment.

Our Children and Youth Mission Statement

To cultivate a safe and welcoming environment for kids by nurturing healthy relationships within the church family. We will teach the youth by building a strong foundation of knowledge, and together, we will experience the Orthodox tradition by following the four circles of youth ministry: Liturgia (Worship), Diakonia (Service), Martyria (Witness), and Koinonia (Fellowship), leading our youth to develop, by their own free will, a personal relationship with God and to pursue union with Him.

Women of St. Mary's: A Look Back at 125 Years of History

by Paulette G. Hastings

As a child of St. Mary's, I am honored to share a little history about the women who came before me, the women who helped shape our parish into what it is today.

- The first of these women arrived in Minneapolis in 1896.
- By 1900, when the church was established, there were two women here.
- Ten years later, in 1910, their numbers had grown to seven, and they founded the first known women's service organization of St. Mary's called Elpis, which means Hope.
- Elpis welcomed new immigrant Greek women to the church and taught them how to live in their new home – how to ride the streetcar, shop for groceries, see a doctor, and so on.

These women also performed many other critical roles in the church, such as:

- Baking Prosforo and Vasilopita
- Making Koliva for memorials
- Providing flowers and sweet basil for services
- Sewing altar cloths and acolytes robes
- Cleaning the church
- Cooking parish dinners
- And, when informed by the priest, tending to parishioner needs with service, money or food.

Through the decades, women served even as Elpis changed its name, expanded its scope to the community at large, and chose to become a chapter in the national Greek Orthodox Ladies Philoptochos Society in 1945. Their efforts are highlighted in the display in the church office hallway, and I encourage you to stop by to learn more next time you are at St. Mary's.

Now I'd like to offer 3 examples of St. Mary's women having significant impact on the parish.

The first relates to unity. Back in 1922, divisive politics in Greece divided the Minneapolis parish, too, between the Royalists, who supported the monarchy, and Republicans, who backed the Prime Minister. The division here was so deep that Royalist sympathizers purchased a former Protestant church, brought in a Royalist priest, and began worshipping apart from the Republicans of St. Mary's. Throughout the years of separation, the women of Elpis continued their philanthropic work, and eventually convinced the two factions to start talking.

Ultimately they returned to a single parish under the St. Mary's dome during Holy Week of 1930. It's hard to imagine where we would be today if this rift wasn't repaired. And I challenge us to build relationships, to forgive, and to strengthen one another as we grow together in faith.

The second example relates to beauty in the church. Did you know that a woman founded our first choir in 1926? It consisted of eight 12-15 year old girls, and the raising of their sweet voices led to decades of beautiful music and an outstanding program that continues today. Additionally, altar flowers and decorations for Lent and Pascha, Dormition and Feast Day celebrations, and Advent and Christmas were routinely done by women. Philoptochos continues this tradition and welcomes all who wish to participate in these lovely acts of service.

Lastly, I want to call out a special group of women, our clergy wives, past and present, who lift up and support their husbands so that they can minister to us. Our Presvyteras and Diakonisas are role models for keeping Orthodoxy alive in ourselves and our families, all while supporting their own families and careers. They have had an outsized impact on the broader life of the parish, serving as educators, confidants, and ministry leaders, and through their gifts have touched the lives of people across the metropolis, the country and the world. I am so grateful for each of them and the service they have freely given to St. Mary's.

In closing, I encourage all women of St. Mary's to draw strength and inspiration from the women of our past who crossed an ocean, learned new customs, a new language, and served others. These strong, courageous, faithful, hard-working, fun-loving women made St. Mary's their home, just as we have made it our spiritual home. Know that however you arrived, as an immigrant, a third or fourth generation descendant, through marriage, another Orthodox jurisdiction, or through your own seeking, you are an important part of this community. May we all support one other in the same way the women of Elpis welcomed newcomers to this foreign land, and create a sisterhood of love and faith that sustains us and our future generations.
